

Omnichannel Point of Sale

Empower your store associates to deliver a seamless and personalized omnichannel experience for customers by providing an enterprise view into inventory available to promise (ATP), customer preferences and order history. Leverage the power of mobile fulfillment and next-gen point of sale (POS) functionality.

Empowered Associates. Delighted Customers.

From line-busting to broad fulfillment options and payment types, enVista's cloud POS/mobile point of sale (mPOS) omnichannel solution provides comprehensive functionality to engage and service your customers. Our POS solution enables brands to engage in clienteling and deliver more personalized experiences by leveraging full access to order history, order status, customer preferences and a complete view of available inventory and product information. enVista's POS, along with our product information management (PIM) and digital experiences solutions, enable an end-to-end customer engagement platform (CEP).

Enhance the Customer Experience

Rapid Checkout – enVista’s mobile front-end selling solution enables multiple omnichannel transactions on a single sales receipt, while offering associates the flexibility to serve customers from anywhere in the store with endless aisle omnichannel visibility.

Customer Brand Loyalty – Meet customer expectations with a single point of service for multiple orders and personalize their shopping experiences with a single view to order history and key customer profile information. Easily process online orders to the store and refund to the original form of payment.

Endless Aisle – Seamless integration with order management system (OMS) and dropship vendors provides a real-time view of network inventory. Besides offering additional product offerings, endless aisle enables the ability to provide branded emails for order confirmation and order status updates to enhance the brand experience.

Validate and Streamline Sales Information – Make it easy for your associates to manage day-to-day store operations, including easy management of registers, shift change reporting and salesperson commissions to ensure data synchronization across all channels. enVista provides turnkey integrations to leading enterprise resource planning (ERP), tax and other key solutions to limit setup time and help you quickly get up and running.

Store Fulfillment & Operational Alerts – Alerts and notifications are core to the POS platform. Your associates will easily know when work is available to accept and understand any time-sensitive tasks, such as ship from store and buy online, pick up in store (BOPIS) orders. In addition to on-screen notifications, we also support text- and email-based alerts to keep your store operations teams engaged and processing orders efficiently.

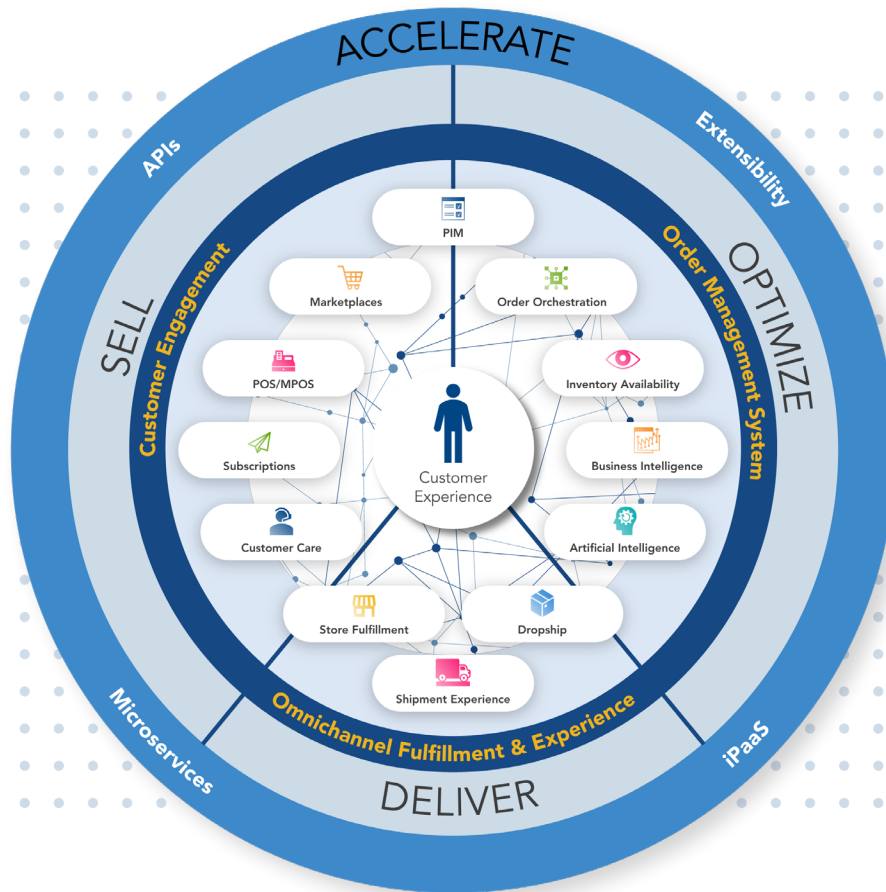

Improve Inventory Management

Seamlessly Integrate with Enterprise Order Management – Process updates, cancellations or returns for any order placed through any channel from and instantly update your OMS and other integrated systems. Extend your omnichannel order orchestration to maximize operational efficiencies and inventory utilization with additional store fulfillment capabilities.

Venture Beyond Store Inventory Management – Effortlessly manage inventory located anywhere in your network and track individual items within a SKU for damaged, refurbished or serialized inventory.

Supercharged Product Information Management – Manage your product information with configurable, organized product hierarchies, SKU variants and custom attributes, while related product listings forge additional sales by suggesting up-sells and add-ons.
